OVERVIEW OF COURSE EVALUATION FRAMEWORK (UTM)

CORE INSTITUTIONAL QUESTIONS

(8 questions)

The new framework includes 8 core institutional questions that will appear on all course evaluations. These questions address institutional teaching priorities and measure the extent to which the course and the instructor met these priorities.

DIVISIONAL QUESTIONS (UTM)

(3 questions)

Each faculty/division has the ability to include questions on the evaluation form that address its own teaching priorities. The number of divisional questions is determined at the faculty level.

DEPARTMENT LEVEL QUESTIONS

(up to 3 questions)

In multi-department divisions, individual units may also opt to include questions that address particular teaching priorities. The number of departmental questions is determined at the divisional level.

INSTRUCTOR-SELECTED QUESTIONS

(up to 3 questions)

INSTRUCTORS may opt to add additional questions for each course they teach.

These questions may be selected from the institutional question bank available at:

http://www.teaching.utoronto.ca/teaching/essentialinformation/evaluation-framework.htm

The number of questions that an instructor may add is determined at the divisional level. Please consult relevant divisional guidelines and procedures.

These questions provide feedback to the instructor on specific aspects of the course and/or his/her teaching. Data collected for instructor-selected questions will be shared with the instructor only.
