INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

Skills developed in International Affairs

To be competitive in the job market, it is essential that you can explain your skills to an employer. Visit the Career Centre to learn how to articulate and market the following skills:

Interpersonal: build and maintain relationships; work as part of a team; and develop sensitivity to different viewpoints and ideas.

Communication: convey information in a concise and persuasive manner; acquire knowledge of other languages; and understand the process of intercultural negotiation.

Investigative: gain knowledge of international trade, economics, other cultures and political variability, as well as understand global social and economic issues.

Analytical: analyze policy and proposals; examine and critically evaluate evidence; and make decisions about social and political problems.

Get involved

Check out student organizations on campus. Here are a few:

- Undergraduate Economics Council (UEC)
- UTM Student Union (UTMSU)
- UTM Athletics Council (UTMAC)

FUTURE STUDENTS

Admission to UTM

All program areas require an Ontario Secondary School Diploma, or equivalent, with six Grade 12 U/M courses, or equivalent, including English. The admission average is calculated with English plus the next best five courses. The Grade 12 prerequisite for this program is Advanced Functions. The approximate average required for admission is mid- to high-70s. More information is available at utm.utoronto.ca/viewbook.

Note: During the application process, applicants will select the Social Sciences admissions category, but will not officially be admitted to a formal program of study (Specialist, Major, and/or Minor) until after first year.

Sneak Peek

Why are some countries much richer than others? What are the consequences of opening up trade and investment with the rest of the world? Take ECO202Y5 to discuss these and similar questions. What causes war? Find out in POL208Y5 – a course that provides the tools to understand and study world affairs.

Economics is one of the most popular disciplines among students at UTM. Nearly 50 per cent of all incoming students at UTM take at least one course in economics during their undergraduate studies.
