

Instructor, Italian

The Critical Languages Program at Hamilton College invites applications for the 2011-2012 academic year to teach two sections of First Year Italian and one section of Second Year Italian each semester. Classes meet three times a week with office hours to be arranged. Requirements include fluency in Italian and English and prior college level teaching experience. This is a one-year appointment with a possibility of renewal. Interested individuals should submit a curriculum vitae, letter of application and contact information for three professional references to critlang@hamilton.edu or to Critical Languages Program, Italian Search Committee, Hamilton College, 198 College Hill Road, Clinton, NY 13323. Review of applications will begin March 1 and will continue until the position is filled.

Hamilton College (www.hamilton.edu) is a residential liberal arts college located in the Mohawk Valley of upstate New York; for applicants with dual-career considerations, Hamilton participates in the regional Higher Education Recruitment Consortium, which posts additional area employment opportunities at www.upstatenyherc.org. Dual career couples should be aware that Hamilton is located within easy commuting distance from Colgate University in Hamilton, NY and that Colgate is also planning to make faculty appointments in a number of departments. A list of Colgate's openings can be found at <http://offices.colgate.edu/hr/faculty.htm>.

Hamilton College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer and is committed to diversity in all areas of the campus community. Hamilton provides domestic partner benefits. Candidates from underrepresented groups in higher education are especially encouraged to apply.