

Visiting Assistant Professor in Medieval and Renaissance Italian Studies

The Department of French and Italian at The Ohio State University is currently taking applications for a visiting Assistant Professor in Medieval and Renaissance Italian Studies for AY 2011-2012. Teaching load will be six courses over three quarters: two senior/Masters-level courses, one on Petrarch/Boccaccio and one Renaissance survey and two undergraduate general education courses taught in English, one on Dante and one on Medieval and Renaissance literature and culture. Native or near-native fluency in Italian. Demonstrated excellence in teaching and strong commitment to undergraduate teaching. Ph.D. in hand by the time of appointment. Applications: Send letter of application, current curriculum vitae and three letters of reference (or professional dossier) to Professor Jennifer Willging, Department of French and Italian, 200 Hagerty Hall, 1775 College Road, Columbus, OH 43210 or electronically to Willging1@humanities.osu.edu < Willging1@humanities.osu.edu > (referees can submit their letters via email.) The Ohio State University is an EEO/AA employer. Qualified women, minorities, Vietnam-era veterans, disabled veterans and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Screening of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.