APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

JEG 400 or JEG 401Y is a work placement/internship course. Some of the goals of the course are to expose you to work situations in which geographical or environmental expertise is required; to integrate you into the local professional community; to provide an opportunity to make career contacts; and to develop skills that will help you succeed in the workplace. The application deadline is 9 am, April 24, 2020. See application details below.

We try to find a placement that suits your needs, skills, career aspirations, and transportation options, however, there are no guarantees concerning the type of placement that you will receive. Placements in corporations; municipal and regional government, provincial government; federal government and non-profit and non-governmental organizations are possible.

The placement will require a volunteer (unpaid) work commitment of 200 hours. This is equivalent to approximately one day per week for the school year. You will be responsible for getting yourself to your workplace. It is crucial that you conduct yourself as a professional in all dealings with your employer; you are a representative of the University of Toronto Mississauga in the community. Please note that although this is an unpaid placement you will have complete safety insurance coverage for the time you spend on the job.

The class will meet six or seven times throughout the academic year (about once per month). Once you have been accepted into the course you will be given a detailed schedule with the meeting dates and other course information. Attendance at all class meetings is required and comprises part of the course mark. At the end of the academic year, you submit a written report and give an oral presentation at the annual symposium.

The first official class meeting, a pre-placement orientation, is to be announced. You will be notified of the time and location. Please note that this is before term begins. Attendance is mandatory; please ensure that you are available for this session.

Important: Please use only your mail.utoronto.ca e-mail address for all course-related correspondence and check it regularly (at least once per day). If you have a message for voice mail on your phone, please make sure that it is professional in tone, and that you only answer your phone when you are free to speak, in a quiet location, with a potential supervisor.
