ABOUT THE INSTITUTE FOR MANAGEMENT & INNOVATION (IMI)

The Institute for Management & Innovation (IMI) is the centre for management education at the University of Toronto Mississauga (UTM).

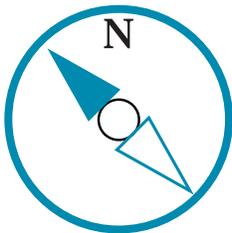

IMI is a cross-disciplinary institute linking management disciplines to others in biotechnology, innovation, science, medicine, sustainability, urban innovation, and professional accounting to produce mission-focused managers and future leaders with a combination of management skills and depth in their chosen field.

As a multi-disciplinary unit, IMI provides an important academic platform for fostering closer interactions and sharing of expertise and providing new means for a range of disciplines to work together. Our globally recognized faculty are engaged in seeking answers related to public health, fintech, social justice, diversity, innovation, education policy, ethics, and much more. Our research has had, and continues to have, far-reaching influence on managerial and policy decisions at the firm, industry, and various levels of government in Canada and globally.

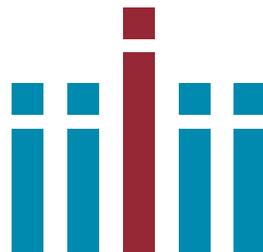

“IMI's innovative Executive Programs are carefully designed to sharpen the skills, tools and acumen needed to transform lives in sustainable and meaningful ways. Immerse yourself in sessions with our outstanding faculty and develop your critical and strategic thinking, new approaches to developing value, and lasting connections with a vibrant alumni network.”

- Professor Soo Min Toh
Director, Institute for Management & Innovation (IMI)
