

Roles & Responsibilities

- Worked as project consultant across energy and sustainability segments, mostly with large utility companies
- Regular responsibilities often included research, analysis, and communication of information to team and clients

New Professional Experiences

- Working in a large, multinational corporation and collaborating with colleagues across several countries
- Exposure to the 'culture' of consulting. Emphasis on billable time, multiple projects, professional & succinct delivery

Learning Outcomes

- Improved time management skills, projecting 'availability', and estimating time to complete complex tasks
- Better understanding of energy industry, market players, the relationships between them, and the role of consultants

Company Description

Navigant Consulting, Inc. is a global consulting firm with a focus on markets and clients facing transformational change and significant regulatory or legal pressures. Navigant primarily serves clients in the healthcare, energy, and financial services industries.

Major Sustainability Project: ESG Benchmarking for a US Utility

Input

(Unknown Author, n.d. Licensed under CC BY-NC-ND)

CSR reports, financial statements, proxy filings, corporate websites, industry reports

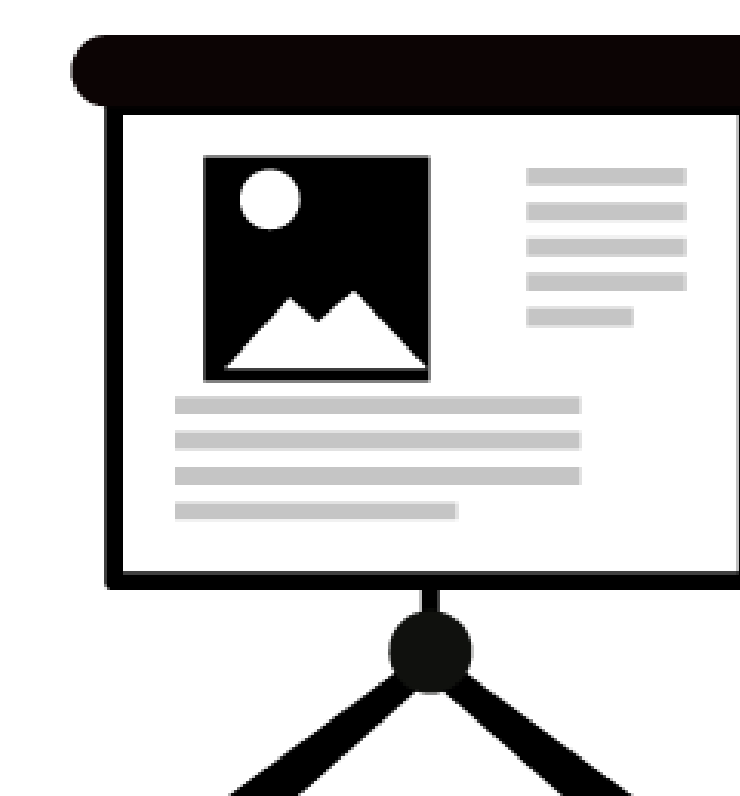

Analysis

(Unknown Author, n.d. Licensed under CC BY-SA-NC)

Quantitative & qualitative benchmarking: Environmental, Social, and Governance attributes

Output

(Unknown Author, n.d. Licensed under CC BY-SA)

Presentation to directors, identification of challenges and opportunities for client, recommendations

Major Energy Project:

AMI Benefit-Cost Analysis Validation for a Canadian Utility

Input

(Unknown Author, n.d. Licensed under CC BY-SA)

Benefit-cost analysis (BCA) provided by client, sample of BCAs performed by other North American utilities

Analysis

(Unknown Author, n.d. Licensed under CC BY-SA-NC)

Vetting client data and assumptions, identification of benefit-cost gaps, sensitivity analysis

Output

(Unknown Author, n.d. Licensed under CC BY-SA)

Wrote major portion of client report filed with regulators, responding to IRs from regulators