

About the Company

blackstone energy services is an independent energy management firm that manages energy portfolios for a diverse range of companies across North America.

Its services include:

Procurement Service

Facility Optimization

Program Management

Responsibilities

- Energy and carbon market research
- Provided client facing marketing materials and internal educational materials
- Data management and analysis for current and future market prices

Research Areas

- Ontario's Cap and Trade Program and Climate Change Action Plan
- North American electricity prices and markets
- Natural gas markets and forecasts

Challenges

- Identifying and recognizing what sustainability looks like in the industry
- Applying my knowledge of sustainability in real-life situations

What I Learned

- Businesses must be ready to adapt to evolving and increasingly strict regulations
- Energy markets are very complex and volatile, and have a wide spread impact on multiple industries
- Simple and effective communication is important

