The Department of Political Science has the following Sessional Lecturer positions available for the Summer 2019 academic term and invites applications from suitably qualified candidates who are not current University of Toronto students.

Posted: Thursday February 13, 2019
Closing Date: Thursday March 7, 2019

Applications for all positions, including an up-to-date CV and the names of two references (with email addresses) should be directed to:

Professor Ronald Beiner
Interim Chair
Department of Political Science
University of Toronto Mississauga
Email to: polsci@utoronto.ca

Please note:
A) not all courses will necessarily be offered
B) Scheduling of courses is subject to change

No late applications can be considered. A valid email address is required, and applications may be submitted electronically to the e-mail address above. By submitting an application and CV for these positions, you will receive email notification of vacancies for sessional lecturers within the UTM Department of Political Science for the next 24 months.

POL 487HSF  Topics in International Relations: International Political Economy

Course Description: Analysis of different aspects of International Political Economy.

Enrolment cap for this course is 20.

The course meets Monday and Wednesday 11:00am – 1:00pm. This course runs from May 2019 to June 2019 (actual work may extend into July 2019).

The stipend for a 0.5 FCE course is:

  - Sessional Lecturer I – $8,160.00, inclusive of vacation pay
  - Sessional Lecturer II – $8,568.00, inclusive of vacation pay

Qualifications: Preferred qualifications are either PhD in relevant discipline (completed) or for non University of Toronto graduate students, near completion, or other highly relevant qualification/professional experience. We are seeking previous experience in teaching, teaching excellence, and mastery of subject area. The ideal candidate will have an active research program in IPE on topics like trade, sustainable development, and inequality.

Duties: Preparation and delivery of all lectures, development of all tests, exams and assignments, student contact, and grading.