

POLITICAL SCIENCE (HBA)

Department of Political Science

Politics is about power and Political Science studies the power struggles that lead to policies and issues such as rising tuition and the war in Iraq. Political Science students can explain how bureaucracies work; how great powers rise and fall; the difference between an effective public policy and a misguided one; how to design an unbiased opinion poll; and the factors that shape international decision-making. Political Science students also factor into their analyses philosophical questions, such as who ought to rule? What is legitimacy? Are liberty and equality compatible?

Our department offers students the chance to customize their degrees to their personal interests, to explore the latest topics in politics with the latest teaching methods, and to learn from internationally renowned scholars.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR TIME AT UTM!

We want to help you maximize your university experience, so we've pulled together information and interesting suggestions to get you started, although there are many more! As you review the chart on the inside pages, note that many of the suggestions need not be restricted to the year they are mentioned. In fact, activities such as joining an academic society, engaging with faculty and seeking opportunities to gain experience should occur in each year of your study at UTM. Read through the chart and create your own plan using My Program Plan found at www.utm.utoronto.ca/program-plans

FUTURE STUDENTS

Admission to UTM

All program areas require an Ontario Secondary School Diploma, or equivalent, with six Grade 12 U/M courses, or equivalent, including English. The admission average is calculated with English plus the next best five courses. The approximate average required for admission is mid- to high-70s. More information is available at utm.utoronto.ca/viewbook.

NOTE: During the application process, applicants will select the Social Sciences admissions category, but will not officially be admitted to a formal program of study (Specialist, Major, and/or Minor) until after first year.

Sneak Peek

What causes war? How can peace be achieved and sustained? Learn the conceptual and theoretical tools needed to address international relations through POL209H5. Ever wondered how “politics” is constructed and practiced in different countries? Compare the politics of countries and world regions through POL218H5 and POL219H5.

Our faculty members have a diverse and exciting range of research interests and specializations, from international relations to political economy, from environmental politics to the study of conflict and genocide. We pride ourselves on the broad and stimulating range of courses we offer our students.
