ANTHROPOLOGY (HBSc)

Department of Anthropology

Anthropology is the study of humankind from its beginnings to the present day. Many disciplines concern themselves with humans, but only anthropology seeks to understand the whole panorama of human existence — in geographic space and evolutionary time — through comparative and holistic study.

The research interests of our full-time faculty members reflect the broad mandate of anthropology as a discipline. We cover the traditional four subfields of anthropology: archaeology, biological anthropology, linguistic anthropology and sociocultural anthropology. Our strengths include forensic anthropology and the anthropology of health.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR TIME AT UTM!

We want to help you maximize your university experience, so we’ve pulled together information and interesting suggestions to get you started, although there are many more! As you review the chart on the inside pages, note that many of the suggestions need not be restricted to the year they are mentioned. In fact, activities such as joining an academic society, engaging with faculty and seeking opportunities to gain experience should occur in each year of your studies at UTM. Read through the chart and create your own plan using My Program Plan found at www.utm.utoronto.ca/program-plans

Programs of Study (POSt)

- Specialist Program ERSPE0105 Anthropology (Science)
- Major Program ERMAJ0105 Anthropology (Science)

ANTHROPOLOGY (HBSc) Major Program Plan

1st Year

Enrol in ANTI10H5 and ANTI10H5.

Choose a program of study (Subject POSH) once you complete 4.0 credits. Use the Degree Explorer Planner and the Academic Calendar to plan your degree.

Start strong and get informed with utmONE and LAUNCH through the Centre for Student Engagement (CSE). Join a RGASC Peer Facilitated Study Group.

Use the Co-Curricular Record (CCR). Search for opportunities beyond the classroom, and keep track of your accomplishments.

Attend the Get Experience Fair through the Career Centre (CC) to learn about on- and off-campus opportunities.

Networking simply means talking to people and developing relationships with them. Start by joining the UTM Anthropology Society (UTMAS). Visit the Anthropology department’s Events webpage. Why not go to the UTMAS Meet & Greet with Anthropology faculty?

Visit the UTM Library Reference Desk.

2nd Year

Enrol in courses (ANTI200H5, 201H5), (ANTI202H5, 203H5), ANTI204H5 and 0.5 credits from ANTI206H5/207H5.

Speak to the Anthropology Undergraduate Administrator or go to the Anthropology Undergraduate Advising Drop-in Hours to balor your studies to a particular field of Anthropology (health; evolution; forensics; archaeology).

Use the Career Learning Network (CLN) to find postings for on- and off-campus work and volunteer opportunities.

Work on-campus through the Work-Study program. View position descriptions on the CLN.

Do you have a professor you really like or connect with? Ask them a question during office hours. Discuss an assignment. Go over lecture material. Don’t be shy! Learn Tips On How to Approach a Professor available through the Experiential Education Unit (EEU).

Embark on a UTM Abroad Experience through the IEC. Take advantage of this opportunity to travel as part of a class, or a co-curricular opportunity, and learn about a topic of interest in a unique location.

3rd Year

Enrol in 3.0 additional ANT credits of which at least 2.5 must be ANT science courses. At least 1.0 of the 3.0 credits must be at the 300 level and 0.5 at the 400 level.

Throughout your undergraduate degree:

- use the Degree Explorer to ensure you complete your degree and program requirements.

- see the Office of the Registrar and the Anthropology Undergraduate Administrator.

Learn techniques anthropologists use in the field! Apply for ANT308H5 (Forensic Anthropology Field School) or ANT318H5 (Archaeological Fieldwork). View the Anthropology department Field School webpage for more information.

Establish a professional presence on social media (e.g., LinkedIn).

Curious about grad school? Connect with a grad student through the CSE’s Grad Connect program to get the inside scoop.

Gain field experience in anthropological projects around the world!

Investigate the UofT Summer Archaeology Field School and Biological Field School. View the Anthropology department’s Field School page for additional listings of field opportunities in North America, South America and Europe.

What’s your next step after undergrad?

Entering the workforce? Evaluate your career options through a CC workshop offered by the Office of the Registrar and the Anthropology Undergraduate Advising Drop-in Hours.

Considering further education? Attend the CC’s Graduate and Professional Schools Fair. Talk to professors - they are potential mentors and references.

4th or Final Year

What is Experiential Education? It means learn by doing! Enrol in courses with hands on experience like ANTI439H5 (Advanced Forensic Anthropology), ANTI415H5 (Faunal Archaeology), and ANTI418H5 (Advanced Archaeological Fieldwork) or in seminar courses with discussion and debate, such as ANTI430H5 (Special Problems in Biological Anthropology and Archaeology) and ANTI474H5 (People and Plants in Prehistory). Speak to the Anthropology Undergraduate Administrator.

Skills are transferrable to any job regardless of where you develop them. Need to strengthen your presentation skills? Consider a role as a RGASC Facilitated Study Group Leader.

Join a professional association. Check out the Canadian Association for Physical Anthropology, the Canadian Archaeological Association, or the Ontario Archaeological Society.

Go to the Ontario Archaeological Society Symposium. Present at, or attend UTMAS’s Anthropology Conference — a conference held annually at UTM for undergraduate students.

Why not work abroad? Read up on worldwide employment trends and industry outlooks through GoinGlobal. Attend the So Global Expo. See if you are eligible for International Experience Canada.

Market your skills to employers. Get your resume critiqued at the CC. Attend the CC workshop Now That I’m Graduating What’s Next?

Write a strong application for further education. Attend the CC’s Mastering the Personal Statement workshop.

*Consult the Academic Calendar for greater detail on course requirements, program notes and degree requirements.

Visit www.utm.utoronto.ca/program-plans to create your own plan using My Program Plan. Update your plan yearly.
Skills developed in Anthropology

To be competitive in the job market, it is essential that you can explain your skills to an employer. Visit the Career Centre to learn how to articulate and market the following skills:

Cultural awareness & interpersonal: sensitivity to cultural differences and diversity; work cooperatively with others; and understand group dynamics.

Written & oral communication: attention to detail; present and defend a position; summarize results; and present theories/ ideas/viewpoints in a comprehensive manner.

Technical: preserve objects by selecting chemical treatment, temperature, humidity; and draw maps and construct models to scale; photograph sites, objects, people, occasions.

Research & analysis: carry out data collection and evaluate research results; and catalogue information.

Get involved

Check out the 100+ student organizations on campus. Here are a few:

FUTURE STUDENTS

Admission to UTM

All program areas require an Ontario Secondary School Diploma, or equivalent, with six Grade 12 U/M courses, or equivalent, including English. The admission average is calculated with English plus the next best five courses. The approximate average required for admission is low- to mid-80s. More information is available at utm.utoronto.ca/viewbook.

NOTE: During the application process, applicants will select the Life Sciences admissions category, but will not officially be admitted to a formal program of study (Specialist, Major, and/or Minor) until after first year.

Sneak Peek

How are archaeological data recovered through excavation? Learn how archaeological data are organized and analyzed and what archaeological data tell us about the human past. What is the connection between health and anthropology? Experience how medical anthropologists conduct their fieldwork by testing growth and development, diet, and activity lab methods.

UTM Anthropology has two new teaching laboratory spaces with a large collection of archaeological artifacts, fossils and human skeletons. Learn human skeletal anatomy; examine fossil casts close up; or work with archaeological artifacts with a small group of peers, your TA and the instructor.
