

ART HISTORY (HBA)

Department of Visual Studies

The Art History program provides students with the opportunity to engage in the academic study of works of art and architecture with award-winning, internationally-renowned faculty. Courses span the history of art from the ancient to the contemporary world, and investigate art from Europe, North America, and Asia. Students are trained in traditional methods of interpretation as well as the newest approaches in the field. Students learn to analyze visual objects, considering their form, materials and techniques, meaning, and historical and political context.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR TIME AT UTM!

We want to help you maximize your university experience, so we've pulled together information and interesting suggestions to get you started, although there are many more! As you review the chart on the inside pages, note that many of the suggestions need not be restricted to the year they are mentioned. In fact, activities such as joining an academic society, engaging with faculty and seeking opportunities to gain experience should occur in each year of your study at UTM. Read through the chart and create your own plan using My Program Plan found at www.utm.utoronto.ca/program-plans

ART HISTORY

Skills developed in Art History

To be competitive in the job market, it is essential that you can explain your skills to an employer. Visit the Career Centre to learn how to articulate and market the following skills:

Research & investigative: critically examine works of art, architecture, messages, and human history from different regions and time periods, as well as review published work and interpretations.

Communication: effectively present theories and viewpoints through writing and speaking; support an argument; and adapt content and delivery for different audiences.

Technical: develop broad knowledge of artistic periods and artworks; cultivate visual literacy and understanding of symbolism; and understand creative processes.

Flexibility: self-motivated; work well independently and in teams; and detail-oriented.

FUTURE STUDENTS

Admission to UTM

All program areas require an Ontario Secondary School Diploma, or equivalent, with six Grade 12 U/M courses, or equivalent, including English. The admission average is calculated with English plus the next best five courses. The approximate average required for admission is mid- to high-70s. More information is available at utm.utoronto.ca/viewbook.

NOTE: During the application process, applicants will select the Visual Studies admissions category but will not officially be admitted to a formal program of study (Specialist, Major, and/or Minor) until after first year.

Sneak Peek

How has photography transformed our perceptions and conceptions of art, society and culture? Find out in FAH291H5!

Course requirements ensure that students gain a broad background in three historical periods: ancient and medieval art, renaissance and baroque art, and modern and contemporary art. Students will also take more specialized courses focused on a single theme such as Contemporary South Asian Art, Pilgrimage, or Colonial Latin American Art.

Our department is also home to the award-winning Blackwood Gallery, one of the most respected public contemporary art galleries in the greater Toronto area.
