The Anatomy of the
Matrix Note-taking System

Do you want to take more effective notes for your lectures? It turns out what you do with your notes after lecture will help you learn better.

Summarize the lecture's key ideas and make connections and comparisons. Use the Matrix note-taking system after lecture to do this. It neatly organizes information and highlights what you need to know.

- ☑ Easy to read
- ☑ Summarizes key information
- ☑ Shows connections and comparisons between different concepts
- ☒ Can be hard to use during lectures

1 Organize information using headings

Heading 1	Heading 2	Heading 3
- point	- point	- point

2 Design your tables to highlight comparisons and connections

	Group 1	Group 2
Trait 1
Trait 2		